OF TRENT BRIDGE

Embarking on a Journey of Innovation: The Evolution of Palmers of Trent Bridge

2023 sees a new chapter and a fresh start for Palmer's of Trent Bridge with new owners Stuart Bennett & James Lyon of Creative Interiors, Derby.

With an unwavering passion for innovation and impeccable home design, coming from a background in construction our focus on building excellence organically translated into home interiors following Kings Crescent, a transformative project that altered our perspective on the kitchen, bathroom and bedroom industry, sparking our interest in exploring the synergy of construction and interiors further.

With Creative Interiors of Derby conveniently located nearby we forged a strong bond between us and their director and designers. Equipping the Kings Crescent apartments with Creative Interior kitchens marked the genesis of a burgeoning partnership. This partnership, in turn, culminated in the acquisition of Creative Interiors, a landmark decision completed in December 2021.

Thus began our foray into the world of kitchen, bathroom, and bedrooms. This trajectory was guided by an exceptional team inherited from Creative Interiors. With a storied history and sterling reputation among its clientele, Creative Interiors had the foundation we needed to navigate this fresh endeavor.

Learning and embracing the ethos of Creative Interiors we propelled its growth, a testament to the dedication of our outstanding team. Building on the triumph of this venture, our sights were set on expansion. Enter Palmer's of Trent Bridge, nestled advantageously in the well-established locale of West Bridgford, Nottingham. A strategic choice, given Creative Interiors' renown for impeccable service and luxury design, we aim to infuse these qualities into Palmer's of Trent Bridge.

Our vision for Palmer's is clear—to rekindle customer confidence and offer unmatched service and support. A refurbishment of the showroom, showcasing exclusive products and diverse ranges, aligns with our belief in catering to unique customer needs. Our commitment to quality control extends to suppliers, ensuring that excellence pervades every product and installation.

Enthusiasm courses through us as we embark on this exciting journey. Bolstered by an exceptional team, including showroom personnel, gifted designers, and accomplished installers, we are primed to shape the future of Palmer's of Trent Bridge. We extend our gratitude to past and current patrons for their unwavering support and invite them to accompany us on this new chapter. The road ahead is promising, and with our partnership, we look forward to scaling new heights!
